

Main screen: main menu (guest).

- Purposes:

1. Welcome users to the website.
  2. Introduce users and give them access to the most basic features of the website, including sign up, log in, read website articles, search products, ...
- What is shown, from top to bottom:
    1. A bar of most basic features including seeing website page categories, reading articles, logging in and signing up if the user is not logged in.
    2. A search bar to search for products on the website.
    3. A shopping cart button on the right of the search bar.
    4. A welcome banner to users.
    5. Recommended lists of products and services, with side buttons to see more.
    6. Website media and information.
  - How users can use:
    1. Users can click on one of the four features and get to corresponding pages to use the features.
      - User clicks on “Login” to get to the Screen 2 below.
    2. Users can type in a search keyword into the search bar and either press Enter or click on the Search icon on the right to use the searching feature.
    3. Users can click on the shopping cart button to reveal the temporary shopping cart that user has added products and services into during the session.
      - User clicks on the shopping cart to get to the Screen 3 below.
    4. Users can click on “Shop now” or “Read news” buttons on the banner to be redirected to the corresponding pages.
      - “Shop now” redirects the user to the login page if the user is not logged in, else to the default search results page.
      - “Read news” redirects the user to the articles page where articles are sorted from the newest on top to oldest in the bottom.
    5. Users can click on products or services shown, where the user is lead to the item viewing page, or the user could hit the side buttons to see more recommended products and services.
    6. Users can read more on team information and click on the social media icons on the left to get to the team media pages.

Screen 2: Login page.

- Purposes:
  1. Main: user can log in to a registered account on the website.
  2. Give users access to some of the most basic features of the website, including sign up, log in, read website articles, search products, see website page categories.
- What is shown, from top to bottom:
  1. A bar of most basic features including seeing website page categories, reading articles, logging in and signing up if the user is not logged in.
  2. A search bar to search for products on the website.

3. A shopping cart button on the right of the search bar.
  4. Log in form including the username and password bars.
  5. "Forgot passwords" button to be clicked on.
  6. "Login" button with a right-arrow on it.
  7. "I don't have an account?" text with "Sign up" button that can be clicked on.
  8. Website media and information.
- How user can use:
1. Users can click on one of the four features and get to corresponding pages to use the features.
    - User clicks on "Login" to get reloaded to the Screen 2: Login page.
  2. Users can type in a search keyword into the search bar and either press Enter or click on the Search icon on the right to use the searching feature.
  3. Users can click on the shopping cart button to reveal the temporary shopping cart that user has added products and services into during the session.
    - User clicks on the shopping cart to get to the Screen 3 below.
  4. Users can type into the login form about a registered account they want to log in to.
  5. Users can click on the "Forgot passwords" to be directed to account recovery page.
  6. Users can click on the "Login" button to proceed signing into a registered account, if there is that matches the username and password filled in the login form.
  7. Users can click on the "Sign up" button to get to the sign up page.
  8. Users can read more on team information and click on the social media icons on the left to get to the team media pages.

Screen 3: Shopping cart page.

- Purposes:
  1. Main: to view the temporary shopping cart not confirmed ordering by the users during the website using session.
  2. Give users access to some of the most basic features of the website, including sign up, log in, read website articles, search products, see website page categories.
- What is shown, from top to bottom:

1. A bar of most basic features including seeing website page categories, reading articles, logging in and signing up if the user is not logged in.
  2. A search bar to search for products on the website.
  3. A shopping cart button on the right of the search bar.
  4. Total cost of the current cart, with the “Check out” button on the right.
  5. A list of items recently added into the cart, including information on each item from left to right:
    - Item information: image, name, short description and name of the shop selling the product or providing the service.
    - Price for one instance of the item.
    - Number of instances of the item, can be adjustable.
    - Check box to choose the item for further related features on chosen item(s).
  6. Website media and information.
- How users can use:
1. Users can click on one of the four features and get to corresponding pages to use the features.
    - User clicks on “Login” to get to the Screen 2: Login page.
  2. Users can type in a search keyword into the search bar and either press Enter or click on the Search icon on the right to use the searching feature.
  3. Users can click on the shopping cart button to reveal the temporary shopping cart that user has added products and services into during the session.
    - User clicks on the shopping cart to get reloaded to the Screen 3: Shopping cart page.
  4. Users can check the total cost of the current cart, and can click on “Check out” button to get to payment page.
  5. Users can check the item cost and item counts.
  6. Users can adjust the item counts by typing into the number bar, or decrease/increase by one on clicking the nearby corresponding minus/plus buttons.
  7. Users can click on the check boxes of the items to have further options on editing the shopping cart.
  8. Users can read more on team information and click on the social media icons on the left to get to the team media pages.